

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XIX.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, JULY 31, 1891.

NO. 43

HUSTONVILLE.

—Dave Newbern is rejoicing greatly over the addition of a boy to his interesting little flock.

—A large percent of our mail matter now is anti-constitutional "tracts" and the opponents are as thick as chiggers in the blackberry patches, we regret to state.

—George Ryan ran over from Somerset last week for a few days with his friends here, and that means everybody for never did stranger more thoroughly ingratiate himself in any community than has "Slater" with this people.

—Mrs. John Goodie entertained last Wednesday evening in honor of her husband's sisters, Misses Dora Miller, of Boyle, and Ella Jones, of Lexington. A delicious lunch was spread and an engagement elsewhere of the local musicians prevented dancing. Miss Lucy Givens and her guest, Miss Green, of Perryville, were "stormed" Thursday evening.

—The first wagon load of melons was brought to town last Friday and though they had wandered from a distant Southern State in quest of a market found a ready sale despite physicians' warning that consumers must so time their crumpas as not to interfere with refreshing sleep if they expect a professional administration of cholera mixtures.

—One of our most popular young men has concluded that his unluckiest star is now ascendent. Scarcely had his back recovered from some punishment by fair hands when he found it necessary to bury his Sunday rig to eliminate one of the most pungent liquid extracts native to America, and delegate a friend to meet a pressing engagement. The rattle snake and polecat are rampant at this inception of dog-days.

—Mr. Hugh Thompson, of the Big Fork in Casey, was rather over-enthused on his return from High Bridge Camp Meeting, Sunday a week, and obnoxious to indifference to time and place, opened a fusillade with his pistol as he started out of town. The marshal returned his salute in kind, but luckily no one stopped a wild bullet, and Mr. T. will be meat for Judge Cantrill when imprudent enough to venture within his jurisdiction.

—Will Cahell returned to his business at Lebanon last Sunday after a pleasant week in this vicinity. "Brother" Drye's familiar figure is again a feature of our burg after a prolonged stay in the grasshopper State. Tom Robinson sports the most variegated suit of hair that any of our much-traveled citizens ever saw. Originally almost black, a liberal sprinkle of grey has long lent a venerable cast to Tom's appearance, but now when his hat is removed his friends are startled to see that a bright bronze has been conspicuously added to the two pronounced shades of several years.

—The new constitution is the all-absorbing topic. In a circle of cultivated maids and matrons that instrument was recently mentioned and one of the matrons was asked her views. "Neither know nor care anything about State constitutions, but would love to secure an amendment to the national constitution whereby mothers who have nursed 8 and 10 children should be pensioned instead of the robust ex-soldier and camp-following loaders who have not half of their country's service to their credit," was the wise response.

—The showers have been very partial since the drought was broken in June and many fields have received a sufficiency of rains to maintain a thrifty growth of vegetation whilst those of neighbors in sound of dinner bells have had but a sprinkle from margins of the clouds. Last Wednesday night and Thursday morning there was the heaviest precipitation on some neighboring localities that has fallen since April, which was supplemented by a nice rain Saturday night and Sunday morning. The present outlook for corn is fully up to the average at this date, barring the very late fields.

—The old-timers have an abiding faith in influence of the first dog-day, 25th of July, in determining the weather of following six weeks, the dog-days' period. A shower on the 25th promises plentiful rainfall during dog-days.

On one occasion we met a crowd of mountaineers on a fateful day in June, which was to determine the important matter of mast or no mast. A heavy rain that day invariably blasted the acorn mast was a tradition in which nearly all believed. There was a local shower that day, west of the mill where that crowd assembled, and we remember very distinctly that the acorn crop was almost an utter failure where that rain fell, whilst a fine crop was reported across the river where there was no rain. The pollen was washed from the bloom is the solution.

Penny's.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Miss Kate Hays has secured the Tyronese school and begins teaching Monday.

—Hon. R. L. Ewell's sermon Sunday was listened to as attentively and praised as heartily as his political speech delivered the day before.

—Mr. W. A. Carson has rented from Col. John Buchanan the upstairs rooms across from the Corner Hotel and he and his handsome wife will go to house-keeping there in the near future.

—Miss Jennie Butler, the daughter of Charles Butler and a graduate of Berea, has been engaged to teach the full term of the colored school here. She commenced business Monday.

—Mr. Sam Magee, who was elected constable at the last election but who by the misunderstanding of some little technicality of law, failed to qualify, will it is said have to make the race again, and he calls on his friends to come out and support him next Monday. Don't fail to stick in a vote for him, for he will make a good official.

—Mr. Alfred Rowland, who for several years has been afflicted with rheumatism and blindness, died Monday at his home in the Hobbs Mill locality, aged about 61. He was a native of North Carolina, a soldier in the Union army, a quiet, peaceable citizen and an honest, generous-hearted man. Once he lived here in town and was in prosperous circumstances, but reverses of war and the too frequent use of grog sapped his strength, swept his property away and reduced him to a state of extreme poverty, in which death found him. An aged wife, likewise afflicted, survives him, along with several grandchildren, who will be taken care of by relatives. The burial occurred Tuesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Binehart are down from Pineville, the guests of Mrs. J. S. Esh. Mrs. Lizzie Bryant, of Campbellsburg, Mrs. W. J. Dulan and Miss Prather, of Perryville, are visiting Mrs. Gardner and Miss Mary Robinson on Stanford street. Those two handsome and popular gents, Messrs. Billy Benzel and Billy Pettus, went to Dillon's Wednesday to see some of their friends. Miss Katie Davis has returned from a week's visit to Miss Fannie Crawford, of Ginn Saltpore. Judge Egbert is in Pineville. Mr. Lucien Pettus is up from the great iron metropolis, Birmingham, to spend a portion of the heated term in C. O. with the dear homefolks. Mr. Joe Pleasant is at Cumberland Gap helping forward the building craze now on in that thriving city. Miss Mamie Smith, of Somerset, and Miss Florence Harris, of Lancaster, are the guests of Miss Maude Pettus. Miss Mamie Deboard is back from a month's visit to Pineville and a certain young man's heart is lighter and happier.

—Our correspondent devotes a half column to prove that "N" was away off when he reported that Bobbitt did up Ewell in the discussion of the new constitution and that the reverse of the assertion is true. As it is not a matter of very great moment we will admit that Ewell downed Bobbitt and suggest that if the correspondent had himself sent a letter Monday, there would have been no occasion for any other report.)

BARBOURVILLE, KNOX COUNTY.

—Hon. John H. Wilson, Judge Tinsley and John T. Hays addressed the people of this vicinity on the new constitution last Monday at the court-house. Judge Boyd also spoke in opposition to the instrument.

—Mrs. Ora Chamberlain is visiting in Manchester this week. Mr. Will Hawn, formerly the individual book-keeper of the Cumberland Valley Bank, resigned his position with that institution last Saturday. His vacancy has not yet been filled. Miss Gertrude Payden, of Georgetown, is at the Anderson House.

—Col. D. H. Clark, of this place, and David G. Colson, of Middlesboro, spoke to the citizens of Clay county at Manchester last Monday. The court-house was crowded and the debate was listened to with great interest and it is fair to say that Col. Clark had the house with him, while showing up the proposed constitution in its true light.

—The canvass of Knox county in opposition to the new constitution commences to-day. Hon. John H. Wilson, Judge Tinsley, Judge D. N. Cull, Col. Clark, C. F. Davidson, H. C. Faulkner and others will be the principal participants in the canvass. We will not be able to tell you in our next letter how Knox county has gone, but feel safe in saying that it will give a nice majority against the new constitution. We were in Manchester last Monday and Mr. Jno G. White, one of the best and most influential citizens of the county, told us that despite all the false reports as to how much majority the county will give for the constitution, it is his opinion that it will be defeated in that county.

Haven't you forgotten something, sir?" barked the waiter insolently, as the guest was leaving the table. "Ah, yes, thanks; I believe I have," and the guest took a half dollar from under his plate, and with a pleasant smile, put it back in his pocket.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—It is reported up town that R. C. Ford is not expected to live till morning.

—Willie Young, a miner at Altamont, was killed Wednesday by slate falling on him. He was a quiet, inoffensive citizen and well liked by all acquaintances.

—Hon. Edward Parker has sold his residence and property to School-Supt. Weaver for $650. The way property has been selling here, Prof. Weaver has got a bargain.

—Col. R. J. Breckinridge and Hon. John H. Wilson will speak here Thursday on the constitution and probably other questions, unless some of our small fry who claim earlier announcements refuse to give way.

—Jim Tipton was brought to town Tuesday on a warrant sworn out by his mother, whom he had knocked down after beating his sister. He had already been tried before Squire Vaughn on a confession, and the case was dismissed by Judge Cantrill.

—Col. C. W. Shively and Miss Lilly Clark, of Barbourville, were here this week. Miss Lou McKee, of Pitman, Florida, is on a visit to relatives here. Mrs. Sallie Craft has gone to Manchester on a visit to W. C. Pitman's family. George Reynolds has moved to town.

—M. B. Jones, with Miss Nannie Brock as assistant, commenced the public school here Monday. The condition and lack of one-houses for the children of both sexes that attend this school is a shame and an outrage to the boasted enterprise of a town with $10,000 streets, &c.

—Blackberry time is about over. Plenty of apples at 40 cents a bushel, beans at 25 cents a bushel, new potatoes at 20 cents a bushel. A few peaches are coming in and later there will be plenty. Corn crop prospect fine, wheat ditto and oats the same, and altogether everything looks prosperous in Laurel.

—The London Manufacturing Co. has burned a brick kiln with success. Mr. Andy Johnson's new sash and door factory is in full operation, and both planing mills are continually running with plenty of orders on file, and the reason why we have not a larger city is because we have not more enterprises of like nature. Give us a flouring mill, ye moneyed men.

—Messrs. Colson and Woodson, of Middlesboro, advertised to speak here last Saturday for and against the constitution. The most of Colson's time was taken up in abusing the democrats, while Mr. Woodson confined himself to the subject, as advertised, and made the best argument against it that has yet been made in his hearing. After these gentlemen had concluded Hon. V. Boring replied to John Young Brown's speech of a week before, but the crowd was thinned out so that his listeners were but few. The judge was taking the old mountain plan of firing from ambush, which in his case, as always, was decidedly the safest.

—The following letter has been received by the chairman of the democratic party of Laurel county from the democratic chairman of Rockcastle county:

"I see in an article in the Courier-Journal of to-day (July the 28th) in which it is stated that

"At a meeting of the democrats of Rockcastle, held at the court-house to-day (yesterday) to decide as to whether the democrats are to have a candidate for the legislature, it was unanimously decided that they would not present one."

Now I would like to say that no meeting of the democrats of Rockcastle county had been officially called to take such action. It is true that probably 20 men met and so decided, but the meeting was not called by the county chairman and I as county chairman told the meeting that they had no right to bind the democrats of Rockcastle or Laurel, and Mr. A. J. Pike, whom they called to the chair, so announced to them. And further, nearly all of those in the meeting had pledged themselves to Mr. Fagan, the independent. Hence we would like for the democrats of Laurel to understand that this meeting was held and acted without authority and no one is bound by it.

I will also say Mr. Ballard has announced his candidacy and that he has always been a democrat.

Yours truly, C. C. WILLIAMS, Chairman Co. Com. Rockcastle Co."

There is not a drop of mugwump or any heretical blood that flows through the veins of the democracy of Laurel, and whenever a set of men, authorized or unauthorized, place before our people as a candidate an independent republican endorsed by the Farmers' Alliance and Knights of Labor, or any other outside party, then our people kick out of the traces and went work. Tom Jim Ballard comes to us as an independent democrat without any official endorsement except that from the chairman of Rockcastle that he has always been a democrat, and for lack of anything better it is sufficient for the democracy of Laurel who will vote for him to a man, unless Rockcastle will put us out a democrat with their official sanction.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Rev. T. B. Cook will preach to the united congregations at the Baptist church here on next Sunday night.

—There was an unusually large crowd in town on Monday, it being County Court day. The merchants all report a good business. The best of order prevailed, not an arrest being made.

—The colored people's stock fair begins to-day and continues through tomorrow. It will be held at the same place that the Garrard stock fair was held. The music will be furnished by the Kenetown Band.

—The speech of Prof. L. V. Dodge, the republican candidate for superintendent of public instruction, on Monday, was well received by his party and listened to attentively by the people generally.

—John M. & Hugh T. Logan have purchased the stock of W. O. Sweeney, deceased, and are opening with a full stock of boots, shoes, and gents' furnishing goods. These are two of Garrard's most popular business men and will secure a liberal share of the patronage.

—Jim Burnside, the colored horse trainer, aged about 50 years, died very suddenly Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock. At the coroner's inquest the following verdict was rendered:

"We the jury find that the deceased came to his death by the excessive use of bad whiskey."

—James Gay, Jr., of this county, was tried before County-Judge Robinson for the cutting of John Sams on the train between this place and Hiattsville after the close of the stock fair. He was promptly and very properly acquitted as it was shown that he was protecting from insult the young lady under his charge. Sams is convalescing.

—The debate between Messrs. Breckinridge and Jacobs upon the merits of the new constitution was able, brilliant and forcible. The arguments for and against the instrument were clearly and eloquently presented by each of the distinguished gentlemen who participated in the discussion. It seemed that the applause was about equally divided, though they were both listened to respectfully and received the undivided attention of the large audience in attendance.

—Geo. T. Mason, of Chicago, is here visiting his mother, Miss Katie Landrum is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wood Dunlap at Camp Nelson. Mrs. Dr. Elkin, of Atlanta, Ga., is visiting relatives here. Her brother, James L. Duncan, and wife returned with her from Atlanta, where Mr. Duncan has been under the care of Dr. Elkin. We are exceedingly glad to note a great improvement in his condition. Capt. R. A. Burnside is in Bell county on business. Misses Kathleen Sanders, of Georgia, and Lizzie Grinnan, of Cynthia, are visiting Miss Bessie Bush. Mrs. Dr. Jennings Price has gone to Middlesboro to spend a few days with Mrs. J. P. Sandifer. Kee Kinnaid is in town. Miss Della Hughes has returned from Marksburg. Miss Annie Royston is visiting friends in Middlesboro. Mrs. R. L. Grinnan is the guest of the family of Dr. Bush.

GREEN BRIAR SPRINGS.

—There will be a grand "meet" of fox hunters at Green Briar and Dripping Springs during the month of August. The same club to whom I rented Dripping last year have again rented it from Mrs. Adams for a month, and will camp there during August. A party of 10 young men from Lexington and many others have engaged board at Green Briar for August so as to join them in the hunt.

I have at Green Briar two nice weather-boarded and painted cottages, containing 3 rooms each, which I will rent to families who desire to keep house and do their own cooking. I charge $10 per week for the whole cottage, or $5 for one large room and one small room for cooking purposes. Cottagers are allowed all the privileges of a regular boarder, and are expected to conform themselves to the rules of hotel. Our retiring hour is 11 o'clock, except on special occasions. Respectfully, D. G. SLAUGHTER.

"Omaha's a great place to play poker in," he said to a group in the hotel reading room. "The informer gets $50. I played one night till they roped me in for all I had, about $40. Next day I informed and got the $50. The next day I took my $50 and, by jimmie Christmas, I busted the bank, and left town with $1,500. Then I sent the $50 back to the conscience fund."—Detroit Free Press.

According to the Brewers Hand-book there were 30,021,079 barrels of beer consumed in this country during the year ending the 1st of May, showing an excess of 3,200,000 barrels over the consumption of the previous year. Of this amount Massachusetts is debited with about a million barrels.—Boston Herald.

Ohio Breeders' Association. Mr. W. B. Fag, President of the above Association, at Cleveland, writes: "I have known Quinn's Ointment for years. Some of its cures have been little short of miraculous. For all enlargements that are just coming out, or of recent origin it is infallible."

STANFORD MALE ACADEMY

B. F. BLAKEMAN, Principal.

The record of the Stanford Male Academy for thorough work, has been in the past, exceptionally good, and we could assure its patrons and friends that no pains will be spared to maintain its former high standard. The course of study will include all branches necessary to prepare for the Freshman class in College, and at the same time will be arranged to meet the want of those seeking a first class English education. For those who may desire to fit themselves for business, a special course in arithmetic and book-keeping will be provided.

The school will open TUESDAY, SEPT. 1ST, and it is especially desired that all pupils be present on that day.

The distinguished head of our State ticket, Hon. John Young Brown, ably assisted by the candidate for lieutenant governor, Hon. M. C. Alford, and Hon. W. J. Hendrick, candidate for attorney-general, have made a pretty thorough canvass of the State, and filled the boys in the trenches with enthusiasm everywhere they have spoken. Mr. Brown has made speeches in 80-odd of the counties, and has stirred by his eloquence many a faint heart into former democratic life and hope. He deserves to be elected by the full vote of his party and each democrat should feel it his sacred duty to go to the polls and help to swell the majority for the ticket to at least 50,000. The eyes of the nation are on Kentucky and her vote next Monday will tell how deep is her disgust for the means and methods of the party in power. The mere election of a State ticket is of small moment compared with the effect that an increased majority will have on the country at large. It will show how much we still adore the Kentucky idea and how greatly we detest the usurpation of Reed, the enactment of the McKinley bill, the attempt to foist a Force bill on the South and thereby take from her the right of free elections, and the wholesale raid on the treasury by the last congress, whereby over a billion of dollars was for the greater part absolutely squandered. Every vote for the democratic ticket which heads this column is a vote against these and other infamous acts of the 51st congress. Let every democrat gird on his armor and in the battle of the ballots fight till the last armed foe expires.

Why Should We Change?

For 40 years the people of Kentucky have lived under the present constitution. Within this period population and wealth have more than doubled. Immigration has poured into our boundary and industry has received a rich reward. Mines have been opened, factories have been erected, railroads have been built, schools have been endowed, churches have been established, roads have been laid out, agriculture has been fostered, stock-raising has been patronized, and State taxes have been low. There has been wanting no element which tends to promote the comfort or to secure the happiness of our people. The rights of all our citizens have been protected. Our present constitution tilted us over the turbulent period of the war. It was sufficient even then, if its provisions had always been observed, to secure to every man full protection of his person or full enjoyment of every right he claimed under the law. In times of peace, it has secured to us all that we have and still furnishes assurances for the future. It has restrained the vicious, it has punished the wicked, it has secured the poor, it has forced each man to a performance of those duties which man owes to man in a social state. Under it, crime has diminished and public virtue has waxed stronger. Under it, justice has been administered without sale, without denial, without delay. Under it, the laws have been faithfully executed and respect for civil government has increased. Why shall we change it now? It has done all for us that a people may rightfully expect their government to do. If we have been industrious, it declares we shall enjoy the fruit of our labor. If we have been virtuous, it affirms that no man shall make us afraid. If we have desired increased intelligence, it furnishes our common schools. If we have desired to worship God, its covenant of freedom of conscience has been our stay. Why shall we change it now? We have suffered no evil which it could prevent. We have endured no wrong which it could restrain. It is a noble structure, built by no pretence hand. Its architects and builders were schooled in their craft. For what shall we change it? Surely not for an untried thing! A thing of which we may surely say, it will give us trouble; a thing of which the best that can be said is, it is experimental. Why not let well enough alone? The question is not between the proposed constitution and nothing. It is between our present and the proposed. Vote against the proposed and you vote for the present.

DEMOCRATS do not be caught napping Monday. Go to the polls and vote the straight ticket.

Vote for the Old Constitution.

The delegates to the Constitutional Convention have announced that if their handling is approved by the people they will re-assemble at Frankfort next September and will proceed to correct all errors of punctuation, rectify all the bad grammar, strike out all the surplusage and remove all conflicts and contradictions. To accomplish this Herculean task, how much time will be consumed and how much money will be expended? Waiving all question of the right of the Convention to alter the Constitution after the people have ratified it, the question recurs how are they going about the work? It is admitted that there is improper punctuation, bad grammar, some surplusage, many conflicts and contradictions; but the serious work begins in determining what parts of the instrument the people have settled on as surplusage and which of a number of conflicts upon a given subject the people want stricken out and which retained.

For example: Sec. 163 declares that all municipal corporations of the same class shall possess the same powers and be subject to the same restrictions. Yet Sec. 164 allows some towns belonging to the 3d class to have a tax rate of $1.50 on the $100, and others of the same class are limited to $1 and still others of the same class to 75 cents. It is plain that these two sections are in conflict. Which one will be stricken out and which one retained?

Sec. 165 brings in another conflict. By its provisions some cities of the 3d class are allowed an indebtedness of 10 per cent, and others of the same class of only 5 per cent. How can this be, if all municipal corporations of the same class shall possess the same powers and be subject to the same restrictions? And which of the conflicting clauses will be stricken out?

Sec. 167 introduces another disturbing element. It provides that in some cities of the 3d class the trustees of the common schools may be appointed or elected, while in others of a same class they can be elected only. A unique way, truly, of conferring on municipal corporations of the same class an equality of powers and subjecting them to the same restrictions.

Sec. 104 declares that the sheriff's first elected shall hold their offices for two years only. Schedule 7 declares that they shall hold for two years and until their successors shall qualify.

Sec. 146 declares that a county judge shall be elected in 1894 and every four years thereafter. Sec. 155 prohibits the election of a county judge or any other county officer the same year a member of Congress is elected, and a member of Congress will be elected in 1894 and every even numbered year thereafter.

These conflicts are taken only as samples. There are between 30 and 40 more of them equally irreconcilable. When the people vote to ratify the Constitution, they ratify the whole of it, contradictions, conflicts, bad grammar, surplusage and all. If the delegates concede that these defects exist, how are they to get rid of them without a re-submission to the people? How will they determine whether the people want the sheriff to hold for two years only or for two years and until the successor is qualified? How will they determine whether the people want the election of county officers or the election of member of Congress to go by default? How will they determine whether the people want all cities and towns of the same class to be governed by the same laws and be subjected to the same restrictions or whether they want some of the same class to have one rate of taxation and others of the same class to have a different rate?

By Sec. 135 no one who is as old as 35 years is eligible to the office of circuit judge. This is plainly and clearly expressed. Yet the delegates have publicly announced that when they re-assemble in Frankfort after the people shall have ratified their work, they will strike out this clause and substitute for it another and an exactly opposite one which will make any one ineligible to the circuit judgeship who is under 35 years of age.

How will they dare do this after the people have expressed an exactly contrary desire. What right will they have to do it? If they can in a material manner alter one single section, why can not they alter the whole instrument? If they possess this power, of what avail is the submission to the people of their work. Would it not be better for them to promulgate an organic law at once without putting the people to the expense of an election and the further expense of paying their per diem for another session which would be about as long as the first one? A proposition the people may well consider is this: If it took seven months' time and cost $200,000 to manufacture a Constitution so full of defects, what time will it take and how much will it cost to get rid of them? A tailor will charge less to make a new suit of clothes than to make a fit out of one which fits no where. A carpenter will charge less to build a new house than to convert a stable into a mansion.

Vote against the proposed Constitution. It will be a vote against the friction of conflicting clauses; a vote against increased litigation; a vote against increased taxation; a vote against a dangerous experiment, and withal a vote in favor of the Old Constitution which guarantees equal and exact justice to all men!

Our discussion of the new constitution closes of necessity with this issue of the INTERIOR JOURNAL and on Monday next the people are to determine this most important question by their votes. It is encouraging to know, as we do from authentic sources, that the feeling and the conservative, sober second-thought of our people is daily growing in opposition to the new instrument and that the probabilities are that it will be rejected by a comfortable majority. We have earnestly urged the reasons which have occurred to us for rejecting the new constitution, because we sincerely believe that its adoption would prove of incalculable injury to the State. We shall vote against it for this reason, but shall not despair of the Republic if the majority should by chance be against us.

A secret ballot may be a good thing and it may be a bad thing. We can not tell how it will work without trying it. For this reason, the law requiring it should have been enacted, if at all, by the legislature so that it might be repealed if it fail of good results. By the proposed constitution, however, it is fastened on us whether it be good or ill. It may turn out that the power of corruption will be centered in the board of election officers instead of the election bumper. Perhaps this will be right. Election bumpers should not have a monopoly of corruption. The officers ought to have a share of the spoils. Equal rights to all is a good motto.

The Kansas City Times of the 23rd contains a splendid picture and a highly eulogistic sketch of Kentucky's next governor, John Young Brown, from the pen of Thomas T. Crittenden, for a copy of which we are indebted to Judge J. M. Phillips. The paper also contains several pages of advertisements of sales by trustees, which do not look well to those who are interested in the future of the city.

BARRY SOUTH, who of late years "could get nothing no how" from the democracy, has cast his fortunes with the people's party and is now howling against his old love with a fury that shows of what base metal he is made. South was a barnacle on the democratic ship and for our part we are glad that he has fallen off to find surroundings more in keeping with his nature.

The lobbyist and the corruptionist will receive better wages if the proposed constitution become the law. As matters now stand the lobbyist and corruptionist log-roll for a measure generally applicable to only one county. Under the new order, they will exert their great moral efforts in behalf of the whole State. Of course they will demand and receive better wages.

Under the proposed constitution, if the people of Lincoln county want a local law for their own benefit, the legislature will be powerless to enact it unless every other county in the State wants the same law. This is about as silly as a law which declares that no member of a family shall eat his breakfast unless every other member has an appetite.

When the Lord made a constitution for the whole Israelitish nation, he embodied it in ten simple commandments. When our constitution-makers undertook a like work for a fewer number of people, they made ten times ten commandments. The constitution makers may be ten times wiser than the Lord, but they are the only ones who think so.

The first legislature to assemble under the new constitution will remain in session from eight to twelve months, and at a cost to the people of from $250,000 to $350,000. Add to this the expense of the convention, and the people will have bequeathed to them a nice little public debt in the guise of a public blessing.

DISTRICT of the people runs all through the proposed constitution. Thou Shalt Not is written in every other section. How much better for the people had the constitution-makers but simply declared that they would run the government themselves and save the people the trouble.

It matters not whether the new constitution is adopted or defeated next Monday, we will feel that we have done our full duty as a journalist and as a citizen. We have fought a good fight and have finished the course. May we be able to record that success has crowned our efforts.

WHAT a blessed era of private virtue and public morality will be inaugurated when members of the legislature begin to travel without free passes! Free passes corrupt every man they touch. Only 70 of the immortal 100 of our constitution-makers travel on free passes.

If the proposed constitution is ratified it will be an interesting sight to the lover of good manners and better morals to see the flock of lobbyists and corruptionists corralled the first legislature.

THE agitators and malcontents say they want reform in our organic law. Since they seem willing to pay over a half million for it, they must want it like the fellow wanted a pistol in Texas.

WHEREVER the proposed constitution touches a vexed problem between the people and the corporations, it decides in favor of the corporations.

With the costs of private legislation added to the public debt which will be fastened to the people by the proposed constitution, we may expect to hear the harmonious sound of cussin' by note when the sheriff begins his annual round to collect taxes and fee bills.

The proposed constitution makes discrimination in favor of the railroads already built and against those which are to be built in the future. Is this due to the fact that 70 of the 100 delegates had free passes over all the railroads in the State?

The proposed constitution provides that the entire property of manufacturing may be exempted for five years from municipal taxation. It, however, forbids an exemption to the people of more than $250 worth of personal property.

NEWSY NOTES.

—The C. & O. will open its new line to the Hot Springs of Virginia on Aug. 15th.

—Mrs. J. H. Bradshaw, of Paris, quarreled with her husband and then went and drowned herself.

—While sitting under a tree watching a base-ball game at Warren, Pa., two men were struck by lightning and killed.

—Jim King, a Webster county blind tiger keeper, escaped from a mob which was about to hang him for cruelty to his wife.

—Three labor leaders are under arrest at Butte, Mont., for murdering an editor who attacked their methods of doing business.

—During a fight on a crowded excursion train, near Rockwood, Pa., a police man and two other men were thrown off and killed.

—During the fiscal year ending June 30 last, 555,456 immigrants arrived in the United States, against 451,219 for the previous year.

—Merced county lost three of her oldest citizens by death this week: Joseph Carter, 88, Mrs. Patsy Crane, 91, and Mrs. Mary Crane, 68.

—In ordinary railroad travel a railroad passenger's chance of being killed—without his own fault—is one in 2,000,000, and his chance of being hurt is one in 500,000.

—W. J. Elliott, editor of the Columbus, N. Y., Capital, was given a life sentence for killing A. G. Osborne, of the Sunday World. The trial has been in progress since May 11.

—The National Republican Executive Committee met at Washington Wednesday and Messrs. Quay and Burley resigned as chairman and treasurer of the National Committee. Their resignations were accepted and Mr. Clarkson succeeded to the chairmanship.

—Two murders were guillotined in Paris Monday. One of them submitted quietly to his doom, but the other, a young man named Berland, fought his executioners like a tiger and had to be placed under the knife by sheer force, and when it descended he was still cursing and struggling.

—It is said that the negro, John Craig, who murdered Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conway and horribly cut two of their sons in Bourbon Sunday, had killed seven people, including one woman, whom he poisoned. It was with difficulty that a burial place could be secured for the dead, as no one wished his carcass on the premises. Craig has a brother under sentence of death at Columbus, O., and his father was hanged for murder.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. Mark Collins, of Lexington, will assist Rev. John Bell Gibson in a meeting to commence at the Christian church Monday night next.

—Rev. W. Y. Sheppard will have a service and administer the Holy Communion at Old Fellows' Hall Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

—The Rev. White, a missionary to China, at home on leave, was struck and instantly killed by a train at Elmira, N. Y., as were also his little daughter and two of her companions.

—Spurgeon began preaching at 19 (he is now over 57), and has in 38 years erected 37 churches and baptized 20,000 converts. His Sunday audiences for 31 years have been from 6,000 to 7,000 people.

Newland. THE U. B. F. lodges of this place will give a union picnic in Goodnight's woods to-day, at which there will be speaking and all kinds of amusements. A grand street parade will first be given. PETER HAMPTON is a candidate for magistrate in this precinct. Pete is about as able to hold down a seat in a justice's court as the next man and he will doubtless be given a chance to do so. THE rumor that the division is to be removed from Rowland to a point further south is again revived. If the company has such intention our citizens ought to take steps at once to offer such inducements as will prevent it. The democrats of Casey and Russell will have a chance to vote for a good old Jeffersonian democrat for the legislature next Monday, Mr. James W. McWhorter. He has announced himself late, but it is yet time for his party to rally to his support. Our nominee for the legislature, Mr. B. H. Edmiston, is deservedly the most popular man in the county, and consequently he is accorded a walk-over by all parties. He ought to and doubtless will poll the largest vote ever received by a democrat in the county. THE report that was current when we went to press Monday night that a married man and a young girl had run off together, we are glad to say proves untrue, though it came straight enough to us to warrant the use of names. Out of abundant precaution and through respect to the families we withheld them, however, and the sequel shows the wisdom of not being in too big a hurry to publish full reports of such scandals until they are fully verified. THE Danville Advocate says the fellow with the still hand, who asked alms of our citizens and then got uproariously drunk on their contributions, and after a night in jail was told to skip out or he would be punished, attempted his game on the people of that city, but Police-man Silliman ran him into Dr. Dunlap's and had his hand examined. O'Brien, as he called himself, protested, but the doctor began his investigation. A sharp knife soon opened the bent-up fingers and the rasped seeing he was beaten, begged for 15 minutes to get. It was given him and he got. It is very seldom a worthy beggar presents himself and a general thing pity and money bestowed on such gentry is wasted. WHETHER or not the report is true that the republicans will spring a candidate for county judge on the day of election, it behooves every democrat to be at the polls and thwart the little game if it is attempted. Our nominee, Judge W. E. Varmon, is not only qualified and deserving of the office, but by precedent both in national and local politics, he is entitled to all out the unexpected term of his lamented father. The democracy in mass convention has endorsed this commendable precedent by nominating Judge Varmon and each member of the party ought to see that he is elected. Judge Varmon has been a worker in the democratic cause since he was a boy and has contributed much of his time and means to secure democratic success. We have now a chance to reward him. Let us do it hand somely. DEFEATED.—THE INTERIOR JOURNAL was defeated by a score of 10 to 5 at the hands of the Nicholasvillians Tuesday afternoon, and the consequence is the I. J.'s have worn long faces since. Our boys played beautifully on the start and up to the fifth inning the score stood 4 to 2 in our favor. At that juncture the visiting club got in 3 runs and the tide was turned. They continued the good work till the score stood 10 to 5, when our boys grew faint hearted and literally conceded them the game. In the ninth inning the I. J.'s seemed to take renewed life, however, and by good batting sent their score to 8, and at that point the game was a most exciting one. Our boys, anxious to make scores, grew indiscreet and a couple were put out at the home plate; another struck out and there the game ended. The defeat is the second our home team has suffered this year, but it is some consolation to know that a club composed of light-toned gentlemen had the honor of beating the crack team of this section. The I. J.'s will play the Nicholasvillians another game in the near future when they hope to redeem themselves by beating them with the ease they have the Danvilles, the Harrodsburgs and other teams they have played this season.

New line glassware, new line tinware just received at Farris & Hardin's. The Stanford Seminary will open its next session Sep. 1, with Prof. B. F. Blakeman, principal, who is both a competent and an experienced teacher. In addition to the regular course, Prof. Blakeman announces a special course in arithmetic and book-keeping for those who desire to fit themselves for business. That the school will be in good hands is assured and the trustees are to be congratulated on the excellency of their choice. For terms see notice on our first page. A DELIGHTFUL OCCASION.—Decidedly the most royal entertainment that has been given in this section for years was the party in honor of Misses Wheatley and de Jarnette, of Georgia, at the elegant home of Judge J. W. Alcorn on Wednesday evening. The Misses Alcorn had been exceedingly liberal in sending out the invitations and the appreciation of those who received them was evidenced by the large number that responded. The spacious yard was lighted with Japanese lanterns and as the guests approached the hospitable mansion the sight presented was an inspiring one and a most fitting prelude for what followed. On entering the house the guests were shown to rooms where, after a short arranging of the toilet, they were ushered down to meet the young ladies in whose honor the party was given. This role of the entertainment was charmingly performed by Miss Bessie Reid, who was attired in pink silk; diamonds. After a few minutes of conversation, Lottie's band played a waltz, when beauty and chivalry, such as was never congregated before in this section, participated and tripped the light fantastic to their hearts' content. Miss Flora Wheatley, of Americus, Ga., wore a handsome dress of pink crepe de chine, chardon trimmings; Miss Ann Lou de Jarnette, of Atlanta, was tastefully dressed in white silk, with diamond ornaments, and each of the young ladies bore with queenly grace the honors of the evening. They are typical Southern beauties and a lovelier or more lovable pair could not be found. Misses Annie and Mary Alcorn were attired in white silk and diamonds and pink silk and diamonds, respectively. As is characteristic of the young ladies, they entertained with that ease and elegance that made each guest feel at home and their kind attention to all made the crowd feel that "it was good to be there." They were assisted by Miss Sue Ront, who wore white albatross and pearls. Merriment reigned supreme and when it was announced that it was 11:30 and lunch time there were not a few who were surprised at the hour and regretted that the delightful evening was passing so rapidly into a thing of the past. The lunch, under Mrs. Alcorn's supervision, was of course an excellent one and full justice was done it. After lunch the merry young folks resumed the dance and it was 2:30 a. m. when the sweet strains of "Home, Sweet Home," announced the parting hour, and at 3 o'clock the scene of happiness was changed into one resembling a banquet hall deserted. It was a brilliant occasion, a thoroughly enjoyable one and one that will be an oasis in the lives of many who will in the years to come take pleasure in recalling the happy event. The following is a list of the young ladies present as well as their escorts: Miss Kate Hall, Ed Engleman; Miss Dollie Williams, Ed Jones; Miss Louise Bailey, J. B. Paxton; Miss Ora Wilmore, Will Burton; Miss Annie McKinney, R. G. Demmy; Miss Anne Lou de Jarnette, Crawford Wheatley; Miss Flora Wheatley, Will Daly; Miss George Wray, Will Lackey; Miss Mattie Rochester, C. C. Carson; Miss Nettie Wray, Ed Rochester; Miss Mattie Vanlever, Clarence Tate; Miss Annie Green, C. C. Breeze; Miss Annie Dunn, Eph Pennington; Miss Lucy Tate, Lee Dunlap; Miss Mary McKinney, W. A. WANTED.—A position. Am willing to do most any kind of work. Good references. Address Box 145, Stanford.

HON. F. F. FORTITT requests us to say that he is halting between two appointments Saturday, Pineville and Hustonville, but that he will likely meet Mr. Miller at the latter point.

JAILED.—Mrs. Fannie Alexander, who belongs to the famous Moorfield family, was jailed Tuesday on a writ sworn out by Mr. W. P. Givens, who claims she stole an old turkey and 28 young ones from him. The trial is set for 10 o'clock to-day.

THE contract time for the building of the water works expires to-morrow and they are not even commenced. As the new constitution will no longer be debatable, we propose to devote some of our space hereafter to making life burdensome for the company which knocked us out of letting the contract to men who meant business.

HUBBLE.

—The benches for the school-house have arrived, and being placed in the house. Miss Eliza Smith will open school here first Monday in August. Thomas Wood bought of Thomas House a lot of hifers weighing 700 pounds for 24. Dr. Kinnard was called to see Mrs. Sally Bright a few days ago, who is improving now, and will soon be on foot again. Dr. Brown was over to see Lesley Carter, who is thought to be in a critical condition. S. E. Owsley sold to D. N. Prewitt some stock hogs at 34. W. D. Snow bought some small cattle of some parties in Casey and Adair counties at 2 cents. Mrs. Eliza Harris bought a family mare of Davenport & Sweeney, of Casey county, for $125. Arup Broadbent is confined to his bed with pneumonia. Wm. Greever, of Russell county, is visiting at S. J. Dunbar's. Mrs. Jennie Bright has returned to Middleboro. Miss Maggie Swinebroad has gone home with her aunt to spend the fall in Tennessee. Harry Logan, of color, has been granted a pension of $6.00 per month under the new law. The youngest daughter of Mrs. Jas. Spoonamore, of Benna Vista, is visiting her uncles here. Miss Mary Hubble has returned from a visit near Lexington. J. W. Bright is the first among us to begin to plow for wheat. Some of the farmers are wanting a thresher to come into this locality now.

—President Cleveland will not make any political speeches in Ohio or elsewhere this year.

—George Dixon, of Boston, knocked out Willis, the Australian at San Francisco in five rounds.

SUCCESSOR TO THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK OF STANFORD.

(Now closing up) with the same assets and under the same management.
By provisions of its charter, depositors are fully protected as are depositors in National Banks, its shareholders being held individually liable to the extent of the amount of their stock therein at the par value thereof, in addition to the amount invested in such shares. It may act as executor, administrator, trustee, &c., as fully as an individual.
To those who entrusted their business to us while managing the Lincoln National Bank of Stanford, we tender our many thanks and trust
they will continue to transact their business with us, offering as a guarantee for prompt attention to same, our twenty years' experience in banking and as liberal accommodations as are consistent with sound banking.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF STANFORD, KY.

Capital Stock.....$200,000
Surplus.....16,500

Attention of the public is invited to the fact that this is the only National Bank in Stanford.
Under the provisions of the National Bank Act,
depositors are secured not only by the capital stock, but by the stockholders' liability for an amount equal to the stock, so that depositors of this institution are secured by a fund of $400,000.
Five sworn statements of the condition of the bank
are made each year to the United States government and its assets are examined at stated times by government agents, thus securing additional and perfect safety to depositors.

This institution, originally established as the Deposit Bank of Stanford in 1858, then re-organized as the National Bank of Stanford in 1864 and again re-organized as the First National Bank of Stanford in 1889, has had practically an uninterrupted existence of 32 years. It is better supplied now with facilities for transacting business promptly and liberally than ever before in its long and honorable career. Accounts of corporations, advancers, firms and individuals respectfully solicited.
The Directory of this Bank is composed of T. J. Foster, of Stanford;
Forrestus Reid, Lincoln county;
J. W. Hayden, Stanford;
S. H. Baughman, Lincoln;
M. J. Miller, Mt. Vernon;
S. T. Harris, Lincoln;
J. S. Hocker, Stanford;
G. A. Lackey, Lincoln;
T. P. Hill, Stanford;
W. G. Welch, Stanford.
W. P. Tate, Stanford.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Mr. Champ Mullins has finished a large store house at Livingston.

—During a row at a dance on Skaggs Creek a woman was shot one night last week.

—The largest crowd we have had for a long time was in town Monday at the speaking.

—Mr. R. G. Williams, a rising young orator, is stumping the county in opposition to the new constitution.

—Town Marshal V. P. Freeman has resigned and Emmett Snodgrass has been appointed to fill the place.

—Fleming Butler was held in the sum of $250 for cutting Dr. Sowder in the head with a hatchet at Wildie last
week.

—Parties near Gum Sulphur had a fight a few nights since. Two men, Reynolds and Todd, were dangerously cut with pocket knives.

—The pump house of the railroad water tank at Livingston was burned Wednesday morning. The fire started from the smoke stack during the absence of the pumper.

—There was speaking and speaking here during the past week. Among the speakers were Prof. L. V. Dodge, John W. Yerkes, A. R. Burman, R. J. Breckinridge, F. F. Bobbitt and W. R. Ramsey.

—Mr. H. C. Hasty, formerly a citizen of this county, is in from north Missouri. Mrs. J. W. Nesbitt is visiting her parents at "Ravenswood." Col. J. B.
Fish was here from Pineville during the week. Capt. W. H. Spradlin is here from Alabama to see relatives.

—To say the political pot is boiling in this county would be putting it mildly.
It is hopping over at the sides and is likely to quench the fires. The situation is about as follows: After the nomination made by the republicans of a candidate for the legislature in the person of Mr. J. S. Joplin, Mr. G. W. Fagan, of Pine Hill, a man having a considerable following and one who has much influence in the county, came out as an independent candidate against the republican. The platform is a promise to introduce a bill to allow the people to vote on the question of doing away with the prohibitory liquor law now in force in this and Laurel counties and substituting therefor a high license system.

On this platform Fagan has made a vigorous canvass and has secured many pledged supporters from all the parties, even some of the prohibitionists coming out for a change. Many democrats, knowing the republican majorities in the two counties and how difficult it would be to elect a democrat and seeing and believing no nomination would be made and that none would offer to run, pledged their votes and support to Fagan under the impression that they could by electing Fagan give the republicans a black eye and repay some old scores. Up to three weeks since no candidate from the democratic side had offered. About that time it was rumored that Mr. T. J. Ballard, of the Big Hill neighborhood, had declared himself a candidate on the democratic ticket. He came in last week and consulted with the county chairman, but would not submit his claims to the party. At an informal meeting at the court-house here Monday the democrats could come to no agreement. They adjourned leaving every voter free to vote for whom he pleased in the three-cornered fight.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

FOR SALE.—44 good ewes. W. M. Mc-Afee, Stanford.

—Want to have fed 200 hogs. Call at
at this office.

—I have 40 nice ewes for sale. M. O.
Vandeveer, Rowland.

—Proctor Knott has lung fever and has probably made his last race.

—The first bale of new cotton sold in New York at 7 cents Monday. It was raised in Dougherty county, Ga.

—P. W. Green took the premium in the platoon pony ring at the Harrodsburg Fair Wednesday and A. M. Pence's Pence won second money in a trotting race. He also lowered his record to 2:25.

—Sales of 72 1,400-pound cattle at 4j
and a $1 on the head, 184 for August delivery at 5j to 5.35, and about the same number for October at 5 cents are reported in the Winchester Democrat.

—Best cattle are in fair demand in Cincinnati at 5j, from which figure lower qualities run all the way down to 1j;
good corn fed hogs command 5j, with grassers 4 to 1 cent less; sheep are active at 3 to 5 and lambs at 4 to 6l.

—The highest price paid for distillery-fed cattle this season was $6.05. G. A.
Swinebroad sold to D. N. Prentiss 200 stock ewes at $3.25. Wyatt Hughes sold to Wm. Robinson 8 yearling cattle, 625 lbs., at 3j. He also sold to J. T. Hugueley and Wm. Robinson 25 barrels of corn at $3.50 at the crib.—Advocate.

—George Burdine, a tenant of Samuel
F. Barkley, a wealthy farmer of Jessamine, shot him to death with the pistol Barkley had drawn on him. They quarreled over rent.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

NEWSPAPER ETIQUETTE.

A Few Rules That Should Be Hang in Every Printing Office.

It very frequently happens that visitors to a printing office do things calculated to annoy the employees. For the benefit of those we print a few rules:

When you enter a printing office do not handle the type in a case. If you want to handle it say so to the printer and he will do it for you. Do not handle his work and type upon the editor's table, where you can sit in his easy chair and examine it at your leisure. Never mind putting back the type—the printer can do that after you have finished.

Don't read the proof sheets, clippings or manuscript. If you wish to know what is going to appear in the next issue of the paper ask the editor to read it aloud to you.
He has plenty of time, and will be grateful to you for the chance to quit his work and entertain you.

If you want to look over the cash book
have the editor go and get it for you.
Your interest will please him.

Never ask for a sound copy. Discover where they are kept and help yourself to as many as you want. Above all things do not offend the editor by tendering payment for them. It flatters him to think you want to read it, and it is cruel to end his satisfying day dream by the mention of so worldly a thing as money. Besides the only publisher is for the glory there is in it.

Just help yourself to the exchanges. If any are still in their wrappers take them out by all means. They contain later news than the others.

Before going make some pleasant remark to the editor about how easy it is to run a paper, and express your surprise that he does not do it better. You would leave an aching void in his heart should you forget to do so.

If you are interested in seeing how things look in type have the printer set up your name in the nicest type. In the office and then take it home with you for a curiosity.
The editor likes you to have a memento of him. Other people's forgetfulness is the bane of his existence.

Ask the editor, if you are a perfect stranger to him, to supply you with a pencil and express your wish to have him get his papers regularly. If he is a gentleman he will give you the key without asking; but some editors are not gentlemen.—Concord (N. H.) Times.

A Great Success.

Bagley—That fishing trip of yours wasn't a success, I understand?

Bagley—Oh, but it was.

Bagley—I heard that you lost all your fine fishing tackle and narrowly escaped drowning.

Bagley—Y-y-y-y, that's true, but I caught
three fish.—Rochester Post-Express.

Almost Caught.

Singleton—I asked Miss Pansie, point blank, her age last night. She said she wouldn't tell me, but she would write it on a sheet of paper if I'd sign my name to it.

Benedict—Well, what is her age?

"I didn't find out. The paper she produced was a marriage license."—Boston
News.

Proper Implements.

Dashaway—I want you to come over to my literary society, old man.

Cleverton—All right. Shall I wear a dress suit?

Dashaway—No. But bring along an extra jack of cards.—Clothier and Furnisher.

A Lame Excuse.

Mother—What! You don't mean to say that the lieutenant has been here all the afternoon? Haven't I forbidden you to remain alone in the company of gentlemen?

Daughter—Why, yes, there was only one!
—Humoristische Blätter.

She Was Thankful.

Waitress (to landlady)—Oh, ma'am, Mr.
Spilfer has left the table in a rage.

Landlady—I'm glad of that! It's the first thing I ever knew him to leave.—Detroit Free Press.
